

RED is more than the Christmas kettles

“While the Salvation Army is best known for our Red Kettles and thrift stores, we offer the community much more than that. When it came time to develop our new neighborhood and worship center we chose the architects at Studio RED who we knew would be creative while working with our red tape!”

“From the beginning, they listened and understood our culture and mission and process. They met our constraints but then added flair and creativity—bringing in modern elements that will attract younger people. Because they spent so much time upfront nailing down details, we will save hundreds of thousands of dollars later—not insignificant to a nonprofit.”
